

WA Legislators & Governor Inslee:
 We need fair, accountable, shared revenue sources

We, the undersigned, urge our elected legislators in Olympia to take action now to adopt fair, accountable and shared revenue sources to sufficiently fund our state's essential services, giving all of us the opportunity to prosper.

Washington State's archaic revenue system is now considered the most "unfair" in the nation. Those with the most pay less than their fair share, while the rest of us pay more, with a disproportionate impact on low income families and communities of color.

Despite our growing economy, Washington State does not have the resources to provide essential services. Millions of Washingtonians are forced to delay retirement, send children to overcrowded classrooms, sit on long waiting lists for health services, and pay more for everything from college tuition to visiting our State Parks with our families.

We urge you to adopt a fair, accountable and shared tax system with stable and sufficient revenues.

- * Fair revenue sources ensure that everyone pays her or his share.
- * Accountable revenue sources are transparent, hold everyone to the same rules, and are enforceable and open to public scrutiny.
- * Shared revenue sources recognize that we are all in this together, with no one group singled out to enjoy unfair special benefits or bear disproportionate responsibility.
- * Stable and sufficient revenues maintain these investments through good and bad economic times.

We urge you to act now to correct Washington's revenue system, the least fair in the nation, and to adopt fair, accountable and shared revenue resources so that everyone may share in Washington's growing prosperity.
